INTERNAL REVENUE.

The Ways and Means Committee Have Agreed on a Bill.

IT INCLUDES THE INCOME TAX.

The Bill Provides That the Income Tax is to Go Into Effect January 1, 1895, and the First Collection Made Six Months Later—Two Per Cent on All Incomes over $4,000.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—The full text of the internal revenue bill, including the important income tax, has been agreed upon by the Democratic members of the ways and means committee. As yet details of the income tax, as finally agreed upon, have not been made public. The Associated Press is able, however, to give a very complete summary of the essential features of the tax as it will be submitted to the house.

The bill provides that the income tax is to go into effect Jan. 1, 1895, and that the first collection on incomes is to be made on July 1, 1895. All classes of incomes are included in the measure, and the uniform rate of 2 per cent tax on incomes over $4,000 is fixed.

The most important detail of the bill is the method provided for the levy and collection of taxes. It is made obligatory on all persons receiving individual incomes of over $3,500 to make a return to the local collector of internal revenue. These returns are gone over by the revenue collector, and a taxable list is made up of those whose incomes exceed $4,000. No tax is levied on those making a return of about $3,500 and under $4,000, but the committee deemed it expedient to leave this margin of $500 below the exemption point in order that the returned might be sure to show all who are subject to the tax.

In case a person having an income of over $3,500 fails to make a return, it becomes the duty of the revenue assessor to make inquiry as to the amount of the person's income. If this examination discloses that the income is above $4,000, the income is subjected to twice the ordinary tax under the law, and the party failing to make his return is deemed guilty of a criminal offense and is made subject to fine and imprisonment.

The main purpose in framing the above provisions has been to avoid an inquisitorial operation of the law. The committee believe that it will do away with the necessity of having assessors pry into the private business of people unless the latter have taxable income and try to evade the law. It is estimated that not more than 85,000 persons will be subject to this tax, so that a great majority of citizens will not have to make returns.

Provision is also made by which no information can be made public as to the details of the income reported by citizens. If such details become public it might injure the credit of a firm or individual. For that reason any public or private person who divulges any part of this information concerning incomes is made subject to criminal prosecution, with heavy fine and penalty.

Particular provision is made for the collection of the income tax due on salaries, not only official salaries but the salaries of individuals received from business firms, corporations, etc. The individual receiving the salary does not pay the tax, but it is made the duty of every government, state, county and municipal disbursing officer to retain 2 per cent of all salaries over taxable amount. This 2 per cent is to be taken out of the salaries in bulk at the last payment of salaries for the year.

The tax upon corporations includes every phase of corporation stock. This tax is general and is without the $4,000 exemption allowed to individual incomes. It is provided that in collecting the tax on corporate stock, the corporation shall pay the tax and deduct the amount from the dividends of the stockholder. It is made the duty of each corporation to take 2 per cent of each annual corporate income from the amount set apart for each stockholder, and say the total to the internal revenue collector of the locality. Severe penalties are provided for failure to make the proper reduction from the dividends of stockholders or for a failure to make the return to the revenue collector.

The entire business of the levying and collecting of the tax is placed in charge of a deputy commissioner of internal revenue. The different revenue districts of the country are also provided with deputy collectors who will especially manage the collection of the income tax.

The measure as finally agreed upon is a detailed elaboration of the plan for an income tax proposed some months ago by Representative Hall of Missouri.

CANDID ENGLISHMAN.

General Chesney Knows We Could Take Canada Easily Enough.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—General Sir George Chesney, speaking in London on the defense of the empire, said he thought that none of the colonies were in danger of attack except Canada, where the serious question must be considered of how a defense could be maintained along the great line of the American frontier.

"God forbid," said he, "that we should ever quarrel with the United States, but it is impossible to doubt that if such a quarrel should happen and the United States become so roused as to carry the quarrel to the bitter end, the position would be extremely serious. The Americans in times of emergency are capable of great things, and in such a case I believe it would be quite impossible for us to give Canada such effective aid as would prevent the United States from occupying Canada. Happily, the attitude of Americans is essentially peaceful, and, unless we were at war with the United States, Canada is absolutely impregnable."

NOTES AND DEEDS UNCOVERED.

Workmen in Tearing Down an Old Building Find Valuable Papers.

LEAVENWORTH, Ind., Jan. 19.—While workingmen were clearing away the debris of the old Mansfield mercantile buildings, three miles from this place, they uncovered some papers which may prove of value to Owen Cleggins or his heirs. They have been deposited with the county treasurer. Among them is a note dated Cincinnati, O., April 3, 1871, signed by Louis A. Tinnegan, calling for $1,357.

Another is dated Pittsburgh, March 6, 1868, and is signed by Henry B. McGurk and Thomas Foster Savage. This calls for $3,500. There are also other notes of lesser value, besides deeds to lands in West Virginia. All are drawn in favor of Owen Cleggins. It is recalled that during the winter of 1872, a tramp was found freezing to death in these buildings, which have been abandoned for 35 years, and that he died after removal to the county asylum without recovering consciousness.

CHARGED WITH FRAUD.

An Alleged Nephew of John Wanamaker Locked Up in Jail.

TIFFIN, O., Jan. 19.—F. D. Wanamaker, claiming to be a nephew of John Wanamaker and to be in the employ of Uncle Sam purchasing horses for the government mail service, came to Tiffin a week ago and ingratiated himself into the good will of business men, horsemen and others.

He then went to Fostoria, where he was captured and brought here to answer the charge of disposing of a fraudulent draft on which the proprietor of the Empire hotel advanced him $10. He is now in jail awaiting a hearing. He is accompanied by his wife and 10-year-old boy. Wanamaker attempted to hang himself in the jail, but was cut down before he had strangulated.

Mining Engineers Meet.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 19.—The Ohio Institute of Mining Engineers held their annual meeting here yesterday with about 60 members in attendance. Professor Edward Orton, state geologist, in an address, stated the estimates based on a recent survey showed the available supply of coal in the state was about 20,000,000,000 tons. The following officers were elected: President, Edward Orton, Jr.; Columbus; vice president, Daniel J. Harry; secretary, R. M. Hazelton; executive committee, F. A. Ray, N. M. Ford and J. L. Morris.

A County Superintendent Dying.

WABASH, Ind., Jan. 19.—Avery Williams, superintendent of the schools of Wabash county, is lying at his home in this city, at the point of death. For a year he has been afflicted with Addison's disease of the liver, and his decline has been rapid. Mr. Williams is a graduate of Butler university, at Irvington, an honored member of the Indiana State Teachers' association and the association of county superintendents, and a brilliant and popular official. His death is a question of a few hours only, at furthest.

An Appeal to the Miners.

MASSILLON, O., Jan. 19.—Circulars have been issued, signed "The Massillon Coal Operators," reciting that the Pennsylvania operators had voluntarily reduced the price 15 to 20 cents a ton and appealing to Ohio miners to vote for a similar reduction. "We ask this," concludes the circular, "with the hope of avoiding as much as possible the distress that must follow the shutting down of mines in this state should the unjust difference in price of mining continue."

Value of the Stanford Estate.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19.—The appraisement of the Stanford estate has been filed. The total valuation of San Francisco property is $17,688,819. It is as follows: Stocks amounting to $11,752,486; bonds, $3,883,160, and house and effects $181,000; notes and accounts, $96,508; real estate, $9,898,82. This does not include the Palo Alto, Vina and Gridley properties, which were deeded to the university.

Impure Food.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 19.—A sample of "pure cream of tartar" from Berden & Company of Toledo, analyzed by the state food commission, turns out to be pure ammonia alum, with no trace of cream of tartar. A sample of "pure currant jelly" from Flactus Brothers of Wheeling was found to consist of glucose, sugar, starch paste and salicylic acid, artificially colored and flavored.

Tortured by Robbers.

MASON CITY, W. Va., Jan. 19.—News has reached this city that James De Witt, an aged farmer living alone in a small hut at Wyoma, nine miles south of here, was strung up by the neck by four masked men about 12 o'clock Wednesday night and held until he told them where his money, amounting to $250, was concealed. There is no clew to the perpetrators.

Shot by Tramps.

Fatally Scalded.

A Fatal Spur.

FRANKFORT, Ind., Jan. 19.—William Dunbar, a wealthy farmer residing near Colfax, was instantly killed. While in town he got drunk, and on his way home his horses ran away, throwing him into a fence.

WILS HOWARD'S LAST DAY.

A Noted Desperado to Be Executed at Lebanon, Missouri.

LEBANON, Jan. 19.—The sheriff and deputies arrived from St. Louis yesterday afternoon with Wils Howard, who is to be hanged today. On his arrival at the jail he created consternation by drawing from a sheath at his waistband an ugly looking dirkknife with a 7-inch blade, and handed it over to the astonished sheriff. Howard says he procured the knife six or eight months ago to kill Detective Imboden with, but found no opportunity to use it until yesterday.

While on the road, Howard said to Imboden that he desired to speak with him. As the detective took a seat at his side, Howard asked if he did not feel mean for having hunted down and convicted an innocent man. Imboden replied he felt he was justified in doing all he had done, but if he was really an innocent man he was profoundly sorry for the part he had taken. Howard rejoined: "That is all right if you are sorry, as now I shall die at peace with all mankind, for I now forgive you."

When the knife was surrendered, Imboden was staggered, as he contemplated the close call he had on the train.

TIFFIN, O., Jan. 19.—F. D. Wanamaker, claiming to be a nephew of John Wanamaker and to be in the employ of Uncle Sam purchasing horses for the government mail service, came to Tiffin a week ago and ingratiated himself into the good will of business men, horsemen and others.

Last night Howard's attorneys, Holt & Holt, appeared at the jail, accompanied by the circuit clerk and Howard and made affidavit that he killed John Baily in Harlan county, Ky., a crime for which an innocent man, his uncle, Will Jennings, is now serving a life sentence in the Kentucky penitentiary. He also protested innocence of the murder of McMichael.

Mrs. Lease Weary of Politics.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 19.—A special to The Journal from Topeka says: A real estate dealer of this city stated yesterday that he had closed a deal by which Mrs. Mary E. Lease would become the possessor of a fruit ranch in California, and that she contemplates removing there at an early day to establish a permanent home for herself and family. It has been known for some time that Mrs. Lease had become weary of the turmoil of politics, and desired to escape further notoriety and criticism. In an interview at Wichita last night Mrs. Lease confirmed the report.

THE FIGHT WILL TAKE PLACE.

Not in Jacksonville, but Within Thirty Miles of That Place.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 19.—Corbett and Mitchell will meet and fight within 30 miles of Jacksonville next Thursday. The battle will not take place in this city. That is a certainty. The Duval Athletic club has given up as futile the idea of calling the combatants together in the ring of its new arena here.

The location of the battleground has become known to a few persons outside of the Duval club. It will be in Nassau county, directly north of Duval county, between the town of Fernandina and the city of Jacksonville. Fernandina is a little over 20 miles from Jacksonville, on the Florida Central and Peninsula railroad. The site of the battleground will be within six miles of Fernandina, near the village of Yulee.

The tent belonging to Professor Gentry, the showman, has been leased and will be pitched after the train arrives at the place of contest. The sports who will attend the contest will not be given the word until an hour before the time for the train to start. Mitchell has signified his willingness to fight anywhere in the state of Florida, and there is now nothing to prevent the fight. Should the sheriff discover the place of meeting, other sites have been arranged for and the crowd can be taken to one of them within an hour's notice.

It has been decided by the Duval Athletic club to fix the price of tickets according to the size of the crowd present at the train on the morning of the battle. The club officials say that $25,000 is wanted to clear them from debt. Should 1,000 people be present $25 per ticket will be charged, and in a corresponding ratio.

Sheriff Broward, who went to Tallahassee to obtain specific instructions from Governor Mitchell in regard to the contest, received nothing new or definite in the way of orders. He was told that he was to act as previously instructed.

Reunited After Many Years.

MUNCIE, Ind., Jan. 19.—Fifteen years ago William Grant was separated from his brother and sister at Lowell, this state. William was the oldest child. He went to Chicago and secured a situation with the Lyon & Healy music house. He was sent to California to travel, and but recently came home to find his old parents unaware of the whereabouts of their other two children. A few days ago William accidentally met his brother on a street in Chicago, and he learned that his sister was the wife of Lewis Purchas, a well known owner of fast horses in Muncie. He at once came here, but had to recall many incidents of boyhood days to prove his relationship.

Put Away For Twenty Years.

SALEM, Ills., Jan. 19.—The three train robbers, Hardin, Jones and O'Dwyer, who held up an Illinois Central train in this city Sept. 20, were sentenced by Judge Burroughs to serve terms of 20 years each in the penitentiary at Chester. Sheriff Helm started for Chester with his prisoners immediately.

Peculiar Death of a Little Boy.

MUNCIE, Ind., Jan. 19.—The death of the 7-year-old son of John Lenox of Hartford City, Ind., which occurred in Muncie, a few days ago, has placed a puzzling case before the medical fraternity of this city. The peculiarities of the death caused a postmortem examination to be made by Dr. Beck of Chicago, who found that an insect had eaten its way from the stomach through the intestines and into the heart, causing the boy to bleed to death. The parents saw him drunk out of a brook and swallowed the insect, which gradually killed him.

IT SHOULD BE BUILT.

Maysville is interested in a bill recently passed by the Ohio Legislature. It is an act allowing the Commissioners of Brown County to build a free turnpike from Aberdeen to connect with the Glendale pike at the Adams County line.

A pike, extending from the line mentioned to Manchester, is about completed, and it will undoubtedly take much business from Maysville, unless it is extended on down to Aberdeen. A number of farmers near the Adams County line who formerly brought their business to Maysville have already transferred their bank accounts and trade to Manchester. They are nearer this city and would rather come here, but the road leading down into Aberdeen is so bad that they now go the other way since the pike was opened.

It is to be hoped the gap between Aberdeen and the Adams County line will be completed at an early day.

The tax on playing cards amounted to $759, while the year of 1892 only amounted to $185.

The amount of tax on circuses and menageries amounted to $5,258.14; for previous year, $5,930.22.

There were 17,419 marriage licenses issued in the State during the last fiscal year, as against 16,288 the previous year.

The amount produced from license to sell pistols and bowie knives was $1,100 for 1893; for previous year the amount was $1,950.

Slade, the Medium.

Mr. Slade, the medium who some years ago made quite a sensation in New York through his spiritualistic manifestations, will make his first appearance in this city Monday night, at the opera house. All agree that this seance is extraordinary, to a degree remarkable, unexcelled by any seance of the kind before the public. Slade leaves the audience to draw their own inference as to the motive force of his manifestations, neither claiming, as some do, to have the aid of supernatural powers, nor confessing that he is alone, depending upon his own exertions and dexterity. A highly nervous, but bright, intelligent gentleman he seems to be, without power to do one half the feats that are made a regular part of the seance. At the opera house the sceptical may be present with liberty to subject the gentleman to any reasonable test and free to detect what "they can." A small admission fee will be charged.

BRYAN OF NEBRASKA.

The Eloquent Western Orator Lays Bare Some of the False Claims of the G. O. P.

One of the most eloquent and effective speeches made in favor of the Wilson tariff bill was that of Congressman Bryan the brilliant young Nebraska orator. He said:

"The measure of protection demanded by the Republican platform is the difference in cost of production, which necessarily assumed that the price of home-made articles is equal to the foreign price plus the tariff. I do not mean to say that the price of the home product is always enhanced to the amount of the tariff, but I do insist that a tariff that is not added can not be justified according to the Republican platform, for if it is not added it is greater than the difference in cost of production. The theory that the foreigner pays the tax is not acted upon by the protectionist. If the foreigner paid the tax the home producer would get no benefit from the tariff. That the protectionist expects the consumer to pay it, is evident from the fact that compensating duties are always given the manufacturer when his raw materials are taxed, and from the fact that rebates are allowed to manufacturers upon material exported. It is amusing to see the protectionist contradict himself. He wants high tariff to make high wages when he talks to the employee; he wants a high tariff to make low prices when he talks to the consumer; he wants high tariff on wool to raise its price and a high tariff on woollen goods to lower their price; he wants high tariff to raise the price of wheat and lower the price of iron. When Mr. McKinley reported the McKinley bill he said in the report: 'We have not believed that our people, already suffering from low prices, can or will be satisfied with legislation which will result in lower prices.' And now protectionists say: 'The McKinley bill has reduced prices and the people are happy.'

"The principle of protection can not be defended. The government has no right either to take my money by taxation and give it to another, nor has it any right by an indirect tax to hold me while some one rifles my pockets.

"We are exporting cotton manufactures to China, although our day wages are five to ten times higher. Our farmers pay for help nearly eight times what is paid in India and yet we meet India wheat in Liverpool, but when you ask a protectionist how England, with free trade, pays better wages than any European country with protection, he replies: 'Who put down the rebellion, anyhow?' We are confident that this bill will remove a part of the load from the shoulders of the people, extend our markets, and justify still further reduction in the near future. The bill has been denounced as favorable to the South. Where we give free cotton ties to the South we give free binding twine to the North. Where we give free cotton bagging to the South we give free agricultural implements to the North. Texas has more sheep than any Northern State, and yet consents to free wool for our manufacturers, while the cotton growers of the South give free cotton to the cotton manufacturers. New England helped to free the black slaves, and the South now rejoices that it was done. It is fitting that the South should now help to strike down this system of white slavery, by which one man is made to pay tribute to another; in the fullness of time New England will rejoice in the result."

Heavy Dose For Gamblers and Saloon-keepers.

At Portsmouth, this week, Judge Dever, of the Common Pleas Court, fined M. Bender $200 and costs for operating a crap game, and Henry Baker $150 for a similar offense. The Sunday violators sentenced were as follows: John Daugherty, Biggs House, $20 and ten days; O. Wertz, proprietor of Elk Hotel, $50 and ten days; Charles Ahrends, proprietor of Eureka Hotel, $30 and ten days. The three last belong to the best class of saloon-keepers and hotel men at Portsmouth, and the jail sentence weighs heavily on them. Chas. Dernbach, who managed a club in the local option town of Buena Vista, was given $50 and ten days.

Here's a Good Thing.

The Bee says about fifty Ripley sports came over to South Ripley one night this week to witness a prize fight, the principals being the lightweights, Hollie Jackson and Al. Warden. Five rounds were fought. Warden had the better of it until the fifth round, when a blow from Hollie's "terrible" left landed on his stomach, which finished him. They fought for a purse of $4.

A statute makes it a fine of $500 to attend a prize fight in this State. There's a good thing in this South Ripley affair for the Commonwealth's Attorney if he will push it, and by doing so he will put a stop to such doings in this county.

MISS ANNA MONTJOY's friends will regret to learn that she is at the point of death at the home sister, Mrs. Sudie Trow, in the San Rafael Building, at Cincinnati. She is suffering from typhoid fever.

MR. H. S. TRUE has been chosen permanent Chairman of the Town Council at Dover. Mr. J. N. Wilson was appointed Police Judge to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. A. F. Curran. Henry Lippert was elected Marshal.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH at Minerva was erected in 1793, and is one of the oldest houses of worship in the county. It has recently received a complete overhauling. Rev. C. D. Mitchell will divide his time between this church and the Dover church.

IT IS LEARNED from an authentic source that Hon. Leslie T. Applegate, of Pendleton County, is a candidate in this district for Judge of the Court of Appeals. If able as a lawyer, and uprightness as a man, pleasant manners, good habits and kindness of heart, with firmness of purpose are to prevail in the selection of a candidate for this court of last resort, the Democrats should examine aspirants well before they decide to reject Mr. Applegate.

WHEN BABY was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had children, she gave them Castoria.

STRADDLED HIS NECK.

A Popular Railroad Man's Startling Experience in a Pullman Sleeper.

"It was back in the Huntington region of the C. and O. Railroad," says the Cincinnati Enquirer, "that Charley Ryan, now Assistant General Passenger Agent of that company, had a startling experience. It was about the time of the opening of White Sulphur Springs by the railroad, and the track was inclined to be a little rough. On the train that gets into the summer resort in the morning was Ryan. He occupied the lower portion of a sleeper, the upper being taken by a woman. As the train was pulling into the place it ran into the siding, the switch being misplaced. Hardly had it started down the switch before it jumped the track, and the passengers were given a terrific shaking up."

Ryan had just arisen from his bed and was stooping over to tie his shoes when the woman above, thoroughly affrighted by the excitement, began to climb out of the berth. The most remarkable feature of this woman was her extreme obesity. Down she slid, anything but gracefully. Striking the form of Ryan with her feet, she came down with more speed and confidence. Ryan, appreciating the situation, endeavored to pull from under her, but his efforts only drew her from her grasp above and she straddled Ryan's neck. By his frantic efforts to extricate himself and the screams of the woman the car was aroused and the attention of the passengers diverted from the ride on the rails. A sister of the woman and a friend of Mr. Ryan finally lowered the occupant of the upper berth and removed the railroad man from further peril."

Mr. David Willson's Illness.

Mention was made yesterday of the illness of Mr. David Willson, of Flemingsburg, father of Mrs. January, of this city. The News says the trouble was caused by his accidentally swallowing a peach seed while eating sweet pickles. It lodged just at the entrance to the stomach and stubbornly refused to go further, causing him much pain and his kindred and friends much mental uneasiness. He was in a deplorable state of suffering and unable to retain food, owing to the stoppage of the food passage. Attempts to force the seed to enter the stomach were in vain, and as a last resort an expert surgeon at Cincinnati was telegraphed for and was to have arrived Tuesday night to perform a most dangerous operation with a hope of saving Mr. W.'s life. About noon of that day, however, Mr. Wilson took a drink of water, when presto! change! the stubborn peach seed became dislodged, the sufferer experienced relief, and the tears of the kindred were changed to laughter and congratulations.

Revival Services.

There were two more additions to the Christian Church last night, making five to date. Owing to the very inclement weather the attendance was not very large, but all present were moved by the eloquent words of the pastor. "Repent ye, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand," was the text, and the appeal to turn from sinful ways and lead a better life was one of the most earnest made during the meeting.

"Pleading Guilty to a Great Indictment," will be the subject to-night. Services begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock. The public cordially invited. All members of the church should be present.

A City In Mirage.

The heavy fog at Quincy, Ill., one morning this week treated the citizens to the most wonderful mirage ever seen. The fog formed in a dense bank hanging over the Mississippi, and on the under side could be plainly seen all the streets, buildings and stately chimneys of the factory district. They were reproduced with vivid fidelity, and the effect was exactly that of a second Quincy lying completely on the opposite side of the river. This remarkable and beautiful illusion was witnessed by hundreds and lasted for about an hour, then a gust of wind floated the fog to a higher altitude and the vision was gone.

A JEALOUS LOVER.

He is Caught Eavesdropping and is Roughly Handled by His Rival.

At Danville a jealous young man was caught eavesdropping at the window of a residence where a rival was calling upon the belle of the city. He made a slight noise, which attracted the attention of the young woman's aunt, and she expressed an alarm about burglars to the visitor. Only too eager for an opportunity to display his courage and gallantry the visitor slipped out of a back door and glided softly within reach of the eavesdropper, who was then peering through the window shutters. He recognized the guilty intruder, and went for him in rough style. It is told that the intruder received a beating of the severest and even the most dangerous character. He cried out with pain and his voice was heard by his father, who lived but a few doors distant. The father came speedily, armed with a lamp and shouting: "Hold him! Give it to him!" Not until he reached the scene with his lamp did he discover that he was encouraging the beating of his own son.

Winning Fresh Laurels.

CINCINNATI ENQUIRER: "Miss Lelia Wheeler, who is a graduate of the Conservatory of Music, is gaining fresh laurels in the South as a vocalist. The following is from a Montgomery (Ala.) paper: 'Miss Wheeler added fresh laurels to her crown. She sang as a bird sings—as soft and as clear. Artistic taste and musical ability marked the selection of her songs. The pathetic tenderness of Pinsuti's 'Tis I,' and the gentle murmur of the sighing 'Winds in the Trees,' were a fitting prelude to the wonderful brilliancy of 'Da Telontano e Vivere,' by Venzano. This was the gem of the programme. It was one continuous outburst of ecstatic joy, and the heart of the singer rippled and trilled through every measure from the beginning to the close. Encore after encore called the singer back, but she responded only with a bow and an expression of face which bespoke her thanks.' Miss Wheeler is a Maysville girl, but has a legion of friends in this city."

Ex-Priest McNamara.

THE DUTIES ON WOOL

An Effort Made to Amend the Wilson Tariff Bill.

DEFEATED ON A PARTY VOTE.

An Amendment to Place Rails on the Free List Leads to a Lengthy Debate Which Promises to Be an Interesting One. Detailed Proceedings of Both Branches of Congress.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Almost the entire day in the house was spent in the continuation of the debate on Mr. Burrows' amendment to restore the existing duties on wool, with the result of its defeat by a strict party vote.

About an hour before the recess Mr. Johnson, the Ohio free trader and single taxer, offered his amendment to place rails on the free list. This led to what will probably prove to be one of the most interesting discussions of the present tariff debate.

Mr. Johnson (Dem., O.) was recognized to offer his amendment placing on the free list railway bars, made in part of steel, rails and girders, street rails and punched iron or steel flat rails which in the bill are dutiable at 25 per cent.

Mr. Johnson explained that his amendment included in paragraph 115, girder street rails specifically, so that there could be no misunderstanding about that class of rails. That a steel rail pool existed which paid steel rail mills to close their works and gave them a monopoly of this production, he said was generally admitted. No revenue would be produced from putting a duty of 25 per cent on them; the ways and means committee did not claim that it would produce revenue, and he asked the house either to put steel rails on the free list or show a good reason for not doing so.

Mr. Springer asked Mr. Johnson, who is himself a steel rail producer, whether placing rails on the free list would drive rail manufacturers out of the business, to which the latter replied that it would not. Its only effect would be to reduce the profits of the mill owners.

"That's what you're here for, I suppose?" interposed Mr. Boutelle, sarcastically, "to reduce your profits!"

"I am not here voting money into the pockets of my stockholders," replied Mr. Johnson, emphatically, amid applause.

"Your patriotism has an element of improbability about it," retorted Mr. Boutelle.

In further reply to Mr. Springer, Mr. Johnson stated that his mill was not more favorably situated than others, that it was in about the centre of steel rail production.

Mr. Dalzell, the Republican representative from the Pittsburg district, then proceeded to attack Mr. Johnson. Steel rail production, he said, was an important industry in 11 states. This proposition was to place steel rails on the free list and leave billets and blooms, out of which they were manufactured, dutiable at 25 per cent; was that just? The steel rail industry was the most splendid monument of protection. Under its beneficent operation the price of rails had gone down from $50 to $25.

"If the prices went down here, what brought it down abroad?" asked Mr. Johnson.

"The inventive genius stimulated by the establishment of the industry here," replied Mr. Dalzell.

Wages paid abroad, continued Mr. Dalzell, were 40 per cent lower than here. Any argument based on the present price of rails was fallacious because of the depressed condition of business at this time.

At this point the house took a recess until 8 o'clock at night.

At the night session Mr. Sibley (Dem., Pa.) created something of a sensation by a bitter speech against the Wilson bill. He said he did not believe that tariffs made or unmade prosperity.

He would support, he declared, a revenue tariff bill such as was demanded by the Chicago platform, but he would never vote for this bill, which was hybrid, half free trade and half protection, with the vices of both and the virtues of neither.

The other speakers were Mr. McKeegan (Pop., Va.), Deforest (Dem., Conn.) and Mr. Russell (Rep., Conn.).

Senate Proceedings.
The most significant event in the senate was the announcement of the resignation of Senator Walthall of Mississippi. It was totally unexpected, and when the presiding officer laid before the senate the letter of the senator, announcing that he had forwarded his resignation to the governor of Mississippi, the greatest surprise was expressed on all sides. Senator Walthall is 63 years old and succeeded the late L. Q. C. Lamar in the senate, nine years ago. His retirement causes general regret among his colleagues as Senator Walthall is very popular in the senate.

The legislative session of the day was short, but it gave opportunity for the introduction of two resolutions from Populist senators condemning the bond policy of the administration, and later in the day in the discussion of the Stark monument appropriation. The latter, after a brief debate, was passed by a vote of 32 yeas to 15 nays.

Senator Morgan (Dem., Ala.) and Senator Daniel (Dem., Va.) took occasion to express their disapproval of the proposed bond issue.

The remarks of Senator Vest (Dem., Mo.) on the election bill were entertaining to the senate, and were in his usual pointed style.

After a general summary of the outrages which Senator Vest alleged had been committed under the federal election law, he concluded his remarks at 8 p.m. On motion of Senator Cockrell, the senate went into executive session.

Ten minutes later the doors were reopened and the senate adjourned until Monday next.

BUSINESS MEN ASSASSINATED.
SHREVEPORT, La., Jan. 19.—Late last night W. C. Clark, doing business at Ruston, 10 miles from Shreveport, was assassinated between his store and dwelling. No clew.

Passengers Have Rights.

Mr. Thomas C. Weeks, an attorney, obtained a judgment for $5 and costs against the company for failing to carry him to his destination. The case was tried before Justice of the Peace Thursby. Mr. Weeks boarded a Droid Hill avenue cable car about 7 p.m. Dec. 9 to go to his home, on East Baltimore street. When the car reached South and Lombard streets, the passengers were told to get out, and the car was sent west. The passengers in the next car were similarly treated. Mr. Weeks demanded the return of his fare, which was refused, and he went home by another route. The company has appealed the case.—Baltimore Sun.

Sensational Arrests.

FORT WAYNE, Jan. 19.—Judson Tyler and William Suttle, scions of two prominent pioneer families, were arrested yesterday on charge of burglary. Relatives and friends were shocked, and they were completely overcome later, when Tyler, the wealthier one of the prisoners, confessed to having been the ringleader in the robbery of seven big business houses. He implicated three companions. The boys have always borne excellent reputations.

One Killed, the Other Injured.

JUNCTION CITY, Ky., Jan. 19.—A desperate fight between Jason Blackerby, white, and John Drye, colored, occurred here in which Drye was instantly killed and Blackerby badly injured. They quarreled, the white man pulling a pistol. The negro clinched with him and wresting the pistol from his adversary's grasp shot him through the shoulders. Blackerby then pulled another pistol and placing it to the negro's ear put a bullet in his brain.

The Burglars Captured.

DANVILLE, Pa., Jan. 19.—The five burglars who attempted to rob the post office in this place and who mortally wounded Policeman Vangilder while making their escape, have been captured and brought to this place.

Wildcat Scare.

OXFORD, O., Jan. 19.—The appearance of a full grown wildcat has greatly alarmed the farmers residing north of this village. An effort will be made by a party of men with a pack of hounds to capture the animal.

Tom Corwin's Nephew Insane.

WILMINGTON, O., Jan. 19.—Thomas Corwin Morris, a nephew of the great Tom Corwin, has become demented and is now in the insane department of the Dayton soldiers' home.

Noted Horseman Dead.

LANCASTER, Ky., Jan. 19.—Hiram Hyatt, one of the best citizens of Garrard county, and one of the most successful traders in fine blooded horses in central Kentucky, died of typhoid fever at this place yesterday.

Respect for Runyan.

BERLIN, Jan. 19.—By command of Emperor William, all the ladies and gentlemen of the court will call upon United States Ambassador Hon. Theodore B. Runyan and Mrs. Runyan on Tuesday next.

WAGS PAID ABOARD, continued Mr. Dalzell, were 40 per cent lower than here. Any argument based on the present price of rails was fallacious because of the depressed condition of business at this time.

At this point the house took a recess until 8 o'clock at night.

The legislative session of the day was short, but it gave opportunity for the introduction of two resolutions from Populist senators condemning the bond policy of the administration, and later in the day in the discussion of the Stark monument appropriation. The latter, after a brief debate, was passed by a vote of 32 yeas to 15 nays.

Senator Morgan (Dem., Ala.) and Senator Daniel (Dem., Va.) took occasion to express their disapproval of the proposed bond issue.

Senate Proceedings.

The most significant event in the senate was the announcement of the resignation of Senator Walthall of Mississippi. It was totally unexpected, and when the presiding officer laid before the senate the letter of the senator, announcing that he had forwarded his resignation to the governor of Mississippi, the greatest surprise was expressed on all sides. Senator Walthall is 63 years old and succeeded the late L. Q. C. Lamar in the senate, nine years ago. His retirement causes general regret among his colleagues as Senator Walthall is very popular in the senate.
